

2021 Scholarship Winners

Jennifer Jung is in her senior year in the Urban Forestry program at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver. While in high school, she volunteered in the ACS Reference Garden at Wellesley College Botanical Garden. She is particularly interested in Asian conifers.

Clare McLean is a student in the Horticulture/Sustainable Landscape Management program at Edmonds College in Lynnwood, Washington. She intends to pursue a career as a garden writer and photographer following graduation in 2022.

Hannah Michaelis is a junior in the Environmental Plant Sciences program at Missouri State University, Springfield Missouri. For the past two summers she has interned at the Lovett Pinetum.

Mila Pruiett is a senior majoring in Biology at Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Oregon. She was awarded a grant to support a summer internship studying how coniferous urban and rural forests differ by seed rain and nurse log availability.

Zane Smith is pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in Plant Sciences with a concentration in Plant Genetics and Biotechnology at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee. His particular interest is in exploring the genetic diversity of Chamaecyparis thyoides.